

Table 1: IEFA Essential Understandings

Subcategory	EUs	Assesses the extent to which ...
Historical Accuracy	1,6	... American Indians are depicted with historical accuracy with specificity to a time period, tribe, and geographic location, as well as the inclusion of elements that demonstrate an understanding of the historical and cultural setting for the world.
Tribal Diversity	1,2,7	... cultural diversity among American Indian tribes is demonstrated.
Individuality	2	... it is understood that there is no generic American Indian and each American Indian develops their own identity.
Storytelling	3,6	... the world centers around the story being told, and the understanding of the importance and validity of oral histories and storytelling.
Modern Tribal Culture	3	... modern tribal culture is understood as being shaped by the ideologies of American Indian traditions and beliefs.
Political Understanding	4,5,7	... it is understood that federal policy has influenced American Indians throughout American history.

Table 2: World Development

Subcategory	Assesses the extent to which...
Story Development	...lesson plan tasks have been completed and how successfully the provided story “starter” has been expanded to include new objects or events.
Organization	...a world reflects planning and organization of objects, events, and coding methods.
Exploration	...a world expands upon tasks in the lesson plan and/or incorporates additional Alice coding skills or tools not included in the lesson plan.